SYD CABS Drivers must display a driver identity document (Driver ID) when providing rank and hail taxi services in NSW.

The Driver ID is an important safety measure. It allows passengers to feel confident that drivers are qualified and have been through appropriate checks to be able to drive the taxi. All drivers must be on-boarded by a service provider (or by the affiliated providers) before they can provide passenger services.

Where should the Driver ID be displayed?

A SYD CABS is fitted with ID holder on the left side of the front screen so you can displaying the Driver ID. The Driver ID must be displayed in this ID holder so that it is clearly visible to any passenger when the taxi is providing rank and hail passenger services.

What if a Driver ID has been lost or damaged?

The driver should contact their SYD CABS Base at 371 Park Rd Regents Park or our Support Center to get replacement Driver ID. If the Driver ID has been lost, damaged or misplaced, you must not provide rank and hail passenger services until their Driver ID is on display.

Example: One of SYD CABS Driver were kicked out from Airport due to not displaying the driver ID. And the warning has been issued to them.

What are the penalties for not displaying a Driver ID?

Penalty Infringement Notices can be issued by the NSW Police or Authorised Officers for not displaying a Driver ID. The penalties for these offences are as follows:

Driver offence: $300

SYD CABS or Any Service Provider $1100

Individual $550 Clause 28(1) where the offender is the driver $300, and Clause 6(1) – 13 (1) and (2)

$1,100, in the case of a bodycorporate, and $550, in any other case.
